16. How To Use the Income Tax Withholding and Advance Earned Income Credit (EIC) Payment Tables

Income Tax Withholding

There are several ways to figure income tax withholding. The following methods of withholding are based on information you get from your employees on Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate. See section 9 for more information on Form W-4.

Wage Bracket Method

Under the wage bracket method, find the proper table (on pages 36-55) for your payroll period and the employee's marital status as shown on his or her Form W-4. Then, based on the number of withholding allowances claimed on the Form W-4 and the amount of wages, find the amount of tax to withhold. If your employee is claiming more than 10 withholding allowances, see below.

Note: If you cannot use the wage bracket tables because wages exceed the amount shown in the last bracket of the table, use the percentage method of withholding described below. Be sure to reduce wages by the amount of total withholding allowances in Table 5 before using the percentage method tables (pages 34-35).

Adjusting wage bracket withholding for employees claiming more than 10 withholding allowances. The wage bracket tables can be used if an employee claims up to 10 allowances. More than 10 allowances may be claimed because of the special withholding allowance, additional allowances for deductions and credits, and the system itself.

To adapt the tables to more than 10 allowances:

- 1) Multiply the number of withholding allowances over 10 by the allowance value for the payroll period. (The allowance values are in Table 5, Percentage Method—2003 Amount for One Withholding Allowance later.)
- 2) Subtract the result from the employee's wages.
- 3) On this amount, find and withhold the tax in the column for 10 allowances.

This is a voluntary method. If you use the wage bracket tables, you may continue to withhold the amount in the "10" column when your employee has more than 10 allowances, using the method above. You can also use any other method described below.

Percentage Method

If you do not want to use the wage bracket tables on pages 36 through 55 to figure how much income tax to withhold, you can use a percentage computation based on Table 5 and the appropriate rate table. This method works for any number of withholding allowances the employee claims and any amount of wages.

Use these steps to figure the income tax to withhold under the percentage method:

- 1) Multiply one withholding allowance for your payroll period (see Table 5 below) by the number of allowances the employee claims.
- 2) Subtract that amount from the employee's wages.
- 3) Determine the amount to withhold from the appropriate table on pages 34 and 35.

Table 5. Percentage Method—2003 Amount for One Withholding Allowance

Payroll Period	One Withholding Allowance
Weekly	$58.65
Biweekly	117.31
Semimonthly	127.08
Monthly	254.17
Quarterly	762.50
Semiannually	1,525.00
Annually	3,050.00
Daily or miscellaneous (each day of the payroll period)	11.73

Example: An unmarried employee is paid $600 weekly. This employee has in effect a Form W-4 claiming two withholding allowances. Using the percentage method, figure the income tax to withhold as follows:

1. Total wage payment	$600.00
2. One allowance	$58.65
3. Allowances claimed on Form W-4 2
4. Multiply line 2 by line 3	117.30
5. Amount subject to withholding (subtract line 4 from line 1)	$482.70
6. Tax to be withheld on $482.70 from Table 1—single person, page 34.	$ 59.11

To figure the income tax to withhold, you may reduce the last digit of the wages to zero, or figure the wages to the nearest dollar.

Annual income tax withholding. Figure the income tax to withhold on annual wages under the Percentage Method for an annual payroll period. Then prorate the tax back to the payroll period.

Example: A married person claims four withholding allowances. She is paid $1,000 a week. Multiply the weekly wages by 52 weeks to figure the annual wage of $52,000. Subtract $12,200 (the value of four withholding allowances for 2003) for a balance of $39,800. Using the table for the annual payroll period on page 35, $4,402.50 is withheld. Divide the annual tax by 52. The weekly tax to withhold is $84.66.

2003 Form W-5

Department of the Treasury
Internal Revenue Service

Instructions

Purpose of Form

Use Form W-5 if you are eligible to get part of the EIC in advance with your pay and choose to do so. See Who Is Eligible To Get Advance EIC Payments? below. The amount you can get in advance generally depends on your wages. If you are married, the amount of your advance EIC payments also depends on whether your spouse has filed a Form W-5 with his or her employer. However, your employer cannot give you more than $1,528 throughout 2003 with your pay. You will get the rest of any EIC you are entitled to when you file your tax return and claim the EIC.

If you do not choose to get advance payments, you can still claim the EIC on your 2003 tax return.

What Is the EIC?

The EIC is a credit for certain workers. It reduces the tax you owe. It may give you a refund even if you do not owe any tax.

Who Is Eligible To Get Advance EIC Payments?

You are eligible to get advance EIC payments if all three of the following apply.

1. You expect to have at least one qualifying child. If you do not expect to have a qualifying child, you may still be eligible for the EIC, but you cannot receive advance EIC payments. See Who Is a Qualifying Child? on page 2.

2. You expect that your 2003 earned income and AGI will each be less than $29,666 ($30,666 if you expect to file a joint return for 2003). Include your spouse's income if you plan to file a joint return. As used on this form, earned income does not include amounts inmates in penal institutions are paid for their work, amounts received as a pension or annuity from a nonqualified deferred compensation plan or a nongovernmental section 457 plan, or nontaxable earned income.

3. You expect to be able to claim the EIC for 2003. To find out if you may be able to claim the EIC, answer the questions on page 2.

How To Get Advance EIC Payments

If you are eligible to get advance EIC payments, fill in the 2003 Form W-5 at the bottom of this page. Then, detach it and give it to your employer. If you get advance payments, you must file a 2003 Federal income tax return.

You may have only one Form W-5 in effect at one time. If you and your spouse are both employed, you should file separate Forms W-5.

Questions To See if You May Be Able To Claim the EIC for 2003

 You cannot claim the EIC if you plan to file either Form 2555 or Form 2555-EZ (relating to foreign earned income) for 2003. You also cannot claim the EIC if you are a nonresident alien for any part of 2003 unless you are married to a U.S. citizen or resident and elect to be taxed as a resident alien for all of 2003.

1 Do you expect to have a qualifying child? Read Who Is a Qualifying Child? that starts below before you answer this question. If the child is married, be sure you also read Married child on page 3.

- No.  You may be able to claim the EIC but you cannot get advance EIC payments.
- Yes. Continue.

 If the child meets the conditions to be a qualifying child for both you and another person, see Qualifying child of more than one person on page 3.

2 Do you expect your 2003 filing status to be married filing a separate return?

- Yes.  You cannot claim the EIC.
- No. Continue.

 If you expect to file a joint return for 2003, include your spouse's income when answering questions 3 and 4.

3 Do you expect that your 2003 earned income and AGI will each be less than: $29,666 ($30,666 if married filing jointly) if you expect to have 1 qualifying child; $33,692 ($34,692 if married filing jointly) if you expect to have 2 or more qualifying children?

- No.  You cannot claim the EIC.
- Yes. Continue. But remember, you cannot get advance EIC payments if you expect your 2003 earned income or AGI will be $29,666 ($30,666 or more if married filing jointly) or more.

4 Do you expect that your 2003 investment income will be more than $2,600? For most people, investment income is the total of their taxable interest, ordinary dividends, capital gain distributions, and tax-exempt interest. However, if you plan to file a 2003 Form 1040, see the 2002 Form 1040 instructions to figure your investment income.

- Yes.  You cannot claim the EIC.
- No. Continue.

5 Do you expect that you, or your spouse if filing a joint return, will be a qualifying child of another person for 2003?

- No. You may be able to claim the EIC.
- Yes. You cannot claim the EIC.

This Form W-5 expires on December 31, 2003. If you are eligible to get advance EIC payments for 2004, you must file a new Form W-5 next year.

 You may be able to get a larger credit when you file your 2003 return. For details, see Additional Credit on page 3.

Who Is a Qualifying Child?

Any child who meets all three of the following conditions is a qualifying child.

1. The child is:

- Your son, daughter, adopted child, stepchild, or grandchild; or
- Your brother, sister, stepbrother, stepsister, or a descendant of your brother, sister, stepbrother, or stepsister (for example, your niece or nephew), whom you cared for as your own child; or
- A foster child (any child placed with you by an authorized placement agency whom you cared for as your own child).

Note: An adopted child is any child placed with you by an authorized placement agency for legal adoption even if the adoption is not final. An authorized placement agency includes any person authorized by state law to place children for legal adoption. A grandchild is any descendant of your son, daughter, adopted child, or stepchild.

2. At the end of 2003, the child is under age 19, or under age 24 and a full-time student, or any age and permanently and totally disabled.

3. The child lives with you in the United States for over half of 2003.

Exception to "Time Lived With You" Condition. The child does not have to live with you for over half of 2003 if either of the following applies.

1. The child was born or died during the year and your home was this child's home for the entire time he or she was alive in 2003.

2. The child is presumed by law enforcement authorities to have been kidnapped by someone who is not a family member and the child lived with you for over half of the part of the year before he or she was kidnapped.

Note: Temporary absences, such as for school, vacation, medical care, or detention in a juvenile facility, count as time lived at home. Members of the military on extended active duty outside the United States are considered to be living in the United States.

Married child. A child who is married at the end of 2003 is a qualifying child only if you may claim him or her as your dependent, or the following Exception applies to you.

Exception. You are the custodial parent and would be able to claim the child as your dependent, but the noncustodial parent claims the child as a dependent because—

1. You signed Form 8332, Release of Claim to Exemption for Child of Divorced or Separated Parents, or a similar statement, agreeing not to claim the child for 2003 or

2. You have a pre-1985 divorce decree or separation agreement that allows the noncustodial parent to claim the child and he or she gives at least $600 for the child's support in 2003.

Qualifying child of more than one person. If the child meets the conditions to be a qualifying child of more than one person, only one person may treat that child as a qualifying child for 2003. If you and the other person(s) cannot agree on who will treat that child as a qualifying child for 2003, special rules apply to determine who may do so. For details, see the 2002 revision of Pub. 596, Earned Income Credit (EIC). However, these rules do not apply if the only other person is your spouse and you plan to file a joint return for 2003.

Reminder. A qualifying child must have a social security number unless he or she was born and died in 2003.

What if My Situation Changes?

If your situation changes after you give Form W-5 to your employer, you will probably need to file a new Form W-5. For example, you must file a new Form W-5 if any of the following applies for 2003.

- You no longer expect to have a qualifying child. Check "No" on line 1 of your new Form W-5.
- You no longer expect to be able to claim the EIC for 2003. Check "No" on line 1 of your new Form W-5.
- You no longer want advance payments. Check "No" on line 1 of your new Form W-5.
- Your spouse files Form W-5 with his or her employer. Check "Yes" on line 3 of your new Form W-5.

Note: If you get the EIC with your pay and find you are not eligible, you must pay it back when you file your 2003 Federal income tax return.

Additional Information

How To Claim the EIC

If you are eligible, claim the EIC on your 2003 tax return. See your 2003 tax return instruction booklet.

Additional Credit

You may be able to claim a larger credit when you file your 2003 tax return because your employer cannot give you more than $1,528 throughout the year with your pay. You may also be able to claim a larger credit if you have more than one qualifying child. But you must file your 2003 tax return to claim any additional credit.
